FINANCIAL AID MYTH BUSTER

MYTH: I get my financial aid refund money the day after census date of a semester

BUSTED: No. The refund process takes a few weeks. Financial aid funds are typically released the Monday after census date. The Cashier's Office then processes any negative student account balance into a refund, which can take a few days. This information is sent to the Colorado Community College Systems Office, which then takes them 1-2 weeks to issue the refunds to HigherOne.

HigherOne then posts the refunds to students' HigherOne cards.

Student Behavioral Health Services

Just a reminder that students enrolled for summer courses can access up to six sessions of Behavioral Health counseling at no charge. An initial visit with the counselor can also help students to identify other resources to meet life's challenges. She has office hours at both the Lakewood and Arvada campuses. The hours are posted online on the RRCC website:

www.rrcc.edu/counseling

Contact Deborah Esquibel Hunt at 303-914-6316
