Students may elect to forgo this academy until after one semester of course work is completed at the college, but this not required. Students will need a high level of maturity to meet the challenge, and will be rewarded for a job well done concerning this career path.

Marijuana Use in Public Service Occupations

In 2012, with the approval of Amendment 64, the use of recreational marijuana became legal in Colorado for those 21 years of age and older. In 2015 in the case of Coats vs. Dish Network, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled that employers do have the right to refuse employment, or terminate employment, for the use of marijuana (recreational or medical), even in situations where that use was when the employee was not on paid time. Currently most public safety agencies and healthcare agencies continue to prohibit the use of marijuana in their substance abuse policies and employment policies, which includes students who are completing rotations as part of their educational program.
